Narberth B. & Loan Will Liquidate—Hopes to Pay 100%

Liability to 400 Shareholders is $350,000. Owns 50 Homes

MEETING CALLED DEC. 2

Yesterday 400 shareholders of the 30-year-old Narberth Building and Loan Association received a directors' call for a meeting, 7.30 P. M., Thursday, December 2, in the borough's Elm Hall, for the purpose of considering a plan of liquidation.

According to Solicitor Henry A. Frye, it is hoped to pay in full, eventually, the stock liability of $350,000, if the real estate market warrants. There are 50 homes held by the organization, in addition to mortgages whose appraisal has not been completed.

The B & L, which once reached a peak of 14,000 shares and assets of almost $1,500,000, has not taken any new mortgages in recent years, and issues of new stock series were curtailed by "the changing attitude of the public regarding . . . investments. . . . People began to cease buying new shares, and without capital no business can continue.

"The directors have given careful consideration to 'federalization' and a possible revaluation of the assets. However, the first would postpone for an undue length of time the possibility of a home owner paying off his mortgage, while the second would merely prolong the time when the question of liquidation would have to be faced. Therefore, it has been felt that the best solution for all concerned, is to have a committee of trustees who will undertake liquidation and bring it to pass as quickly as possible. The association is not insolvent and should be able to pay back 100 per cent of principal if the real estate market does not again become stagnated.

"Every shareholder is urged by the directors to be present at the meeting December 2 or promptly send their proxies."

Suggested for proxy-holders are William D. Smedley and Thomas C. Trotter, Jr.

Mr. Smedley is president, Mr. Trotter secretary, and the other officers are W. B. Kraft, vice-president; Dr. William Howard, treasurer; Henry Frye, solicitor; and the following directors—E. C. Griswold, Horace T. Smedley, J. S. Ketcham, E. P. Dold, Dr. A. L. Orr—and the late Squire H. C. Fritsch.

Plan Yule Play

Given by School at Dec. 21 P.-T. A. Meeting. Hear Minister and Librarian

At the Parents-Teachers meeting in Narberth School auditorium Monday night, Program Chairman Mrs. A. S. Knapp announced that the Christmas play given by the school will take the place of the usual December meeting, in the school at 8 P. M., December 21.

Mrs. E. B. Clark, who attended the Southeast District Convention in Royersford, said Narberth's association received two honorary awards:

Varied Events

Are Planned for the Women's Community Club of Narberth in the Next Two Weeks:

The Project Committee gave their second bridge this month yesterday at the home of Mrs. W. J. Mulholland at Brookline. Eight tables were reserved and proceeds will go to the Health Center. Mrs. G. W. Orth, project chairman, asks that members bring cakes, pies, salads, etc., to the food sale which the Project Committee is holding at the November 30 meeting for the Health Center.

The Fellowship Committee and their guests will meet today at the home of Mrs. William Muller, 35 Sabine avenue, for luncheon and bridge. The meetings are held once a month and proceeds go toward the committee's fund for cheer for the sick and donations to the poor. Guest fees are 50 cents and anyone wishing to attend is asked to phone Mrs. John D. Anderson, chairman.

Club members attended the Club Institute sponsored by the Southeastern District at Coatesville yesterday afternoon and evening. The relation of club work to social, ethical and public affairs' problems were discussed by leaders such as: Mrs. William Spurburg, General Federation chairman of legislation; Mrs. Paul Randall, State chairman of dramatic

Give 3395 Garments

At Needlework Guild Ingathering. . . Officers Elected; Center's Work Described

Mrs. Clarence H. Woolmington, 23 Narbrook Park, was elected president of the Needlework Guild at its meeting in the Lutheran Church, November 10. Mrs. John C. Nash is first vice-president; Mrs. P. B. Krout, second vice-president; Mrs. J. A. Caldwell, secretary; Miss Laura M. Brown, assistant secretary, and Mrs. A. H. Mueller, treasurer.

At the Annual Ingathering, Sister Anna Melville, of the Haverford Center of Philadelphia, told of helping Negroes, by physical and spiritual education, to become self-respecting citizens.

Garments displayed totaled 3395, 70 more than the previous year. The Presbyterian Guild made 397 garments, which will be forwarded in the church's missionary barrels to southern mountaineers.

The Rev. Cletus Senft led the devotions, and Mrs. Senft and Mrs. Wilmot, accompanied by Mrs. John Bailey, sang. The Lutherans' Ladies' Aid served luncheon to the over 90 members and guests.

Four new directors have joined the ranks: Mesdames Roberts, Clancy, Muller and Mockson. December's session will be omitted. Next regular meeting will be in the Community Building, January 26.

Family Album Tonight

The Sunshine Bible Class of the Narberth M. E. Church will present a Family Album Night at the Church at 8.15 tonight. There will be old costumes and old songs. Singers: Miss Evelyn Fleck and Miss Mary Clegg; violin solo, "The Old Refrain," Joseph H. Nash. Free will offering is the admission. Miss Ann Leonard is chairman.

'Second in Command' Enjoys Men's Night

Sports Celebrities Entertain at Narberth Women's Fete

SURPRISES ARE TWO

Some came to Men's Night program given by the Women's Community Club of Narberth Tuesday night because they were "second in command" at home and some because they couldn't resist a program including Harvey Harman, Tommy Loughran, Jimmy Dykes, Rusty Callow, and Bill Anderson—but all of the nearly 100 men there had a wonderful time.

They were twice surprised. First, that leaders in sports can get across their ideas in a most entertaining manner. And second, that their wives could enjoy the sport angle as keenly as they did. The Keystone quartet, which came as the courtesy of the Pennsylvania Railroad, brought down wild applause with such songs as "Play To Me, Gypsy," "Song of the Marines," and their own version of Rigoletto in English.

Ed Pollock, sports editor of the Evening Ledger, pinch-hit for his wife, the Program chairman, and in a clever manner introduced the speakers beginning with Harvey Harman.

Bridge and Bingo

At Junior Club Board's Party Last Night. Blankets, Books, Hold Interest

The Board of Directors and the Membership Committee of the Junior Community Club of Narberth gave their annual party last evening, Thursday, in honor of the new members. Bridge and bingo were played for several very attractive prizes. The Membership Committee is composed of Mrs. John H. Jefferies, Jr., Mrs. Stanley Goranoff and Mrs. George Wyckoff. Following the games refreshments were served by the Hospitality Committee, whose members are Mrs. Theo. A. Fischer, Miss Katherine Loughlin, Mrs. Robert Price, Mrs. George Albert, Mrs. Richard Gillis, Mrs. Edward Cadogan, Mrs. George Wyckoff, Mrs. Ivan Sattow, Mrs. Richard McDowell and Mrs. S. C. Hutchison.

The Blanket Club, organized by Mrs. S. Hulme Brown, held its weekly drawing last Friday at the home of Mrs. Brown. Mrs. Nelson Rowley and Miss Muriel Wales drew the blankets for the week.

Mrs. Ellsworth Clarke, chairman of the Book Club, announced that books were to start passing on the 18th. Members of the Book Club have chosen some very fine books from the current list of best sellers.

L. M. Reunion

The class of 1927, Lower Merion High School, will celebrate a reunion tomorrow. The committee in charge has reserved a section of the stands at the Lower Merion-Radnor game at Villanova Stadium. Following the game there will be a dinner at the Wynnewood House, Montgomery avenue, Narberth. The committee in charge includes: Wendell B. Stewart, chairman; Sally Wynn Beatty, Alexander Fleming, John Gane, Frank L. Houseman, Mary A. Landis, Emily Scull and Josephine Landis Ulrich.

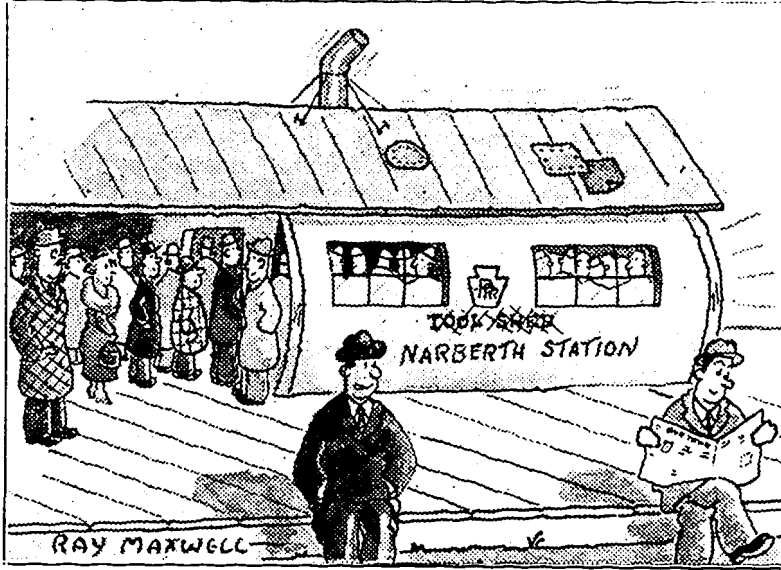

All members of the '27 class are cordially invited to attend.

School Directors Vote To Deposit in Narberth Bank

Narberth's School Board voted, three to two, to make a $1000 deposit in the National Bank of Narberth, at its meeting Tuesday night. This rescinds a decision of a year ago to close out the account. Renewal of a $15,000 depository bond on funds deposited in the First National Bank, Philadelphia, was authorized, despite argument by Robert C. Collins that the bond's cost could be saved by depositing funds in amounts not exceeding $5000 in other banks, under protection of Federal Deposit Insurance. Election of president and vice president, as required by law, will take place 7.30 P. M. December 6. Regular December meeting will be the 21st.

Rehearsals, on Tuesdays, of the P.-T. A. Chorus have begun at Mrs. A. J. Drennen's, the director's home, 417 Grove place. All members are invited to the next, December 7.

Hurrah for the New Station! - - - Let's Have a Dedication!

Weird Train

Scheduled by Narberth Players Dec. 3rd and 4th. Start Rehearsing Patriotic Play

The weirdest train ever seen or heard of in Narberth is due to arrive on schedule when the curtain rises on "The Ghost Train," the Players' 28th production, December 3 and 4, at Elm Hall.

Unquestionably "The Ghost Train" is the most spectacular mystery melodrama ever presented in Narberth and is backed by a year's successful run in both London and New York.

The cast, now in rehearsal, under the direction of William H. Muller, includes the following: Marjorie Topliss Flynn, Betty Brunell, Marion McVicker, Fay Fetterolf, George Werner, Leo McCollough, Mat Callahan, Arthur McVicker, Hervey Keim, Adelbert Campbell and Philip Riger.

Elaborate sound effects, which play a most important part in this production, are in charge of Grace Werner, who will be assisted by Bill Hand and Marty Mellinger. A sound amplifying system will be specially installed for this play.

Rehearsals will also be started during the coming week on "God Winks."

Rod and Gunners Hear of Canada Trip; Plan Shoot

At the Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club meeting Wednesday, in Narberth's Community Building, Dr. Dennis Zimmerman showed an audience of one hundred, pictures of fishing and hunting in Canada. And in telling of his experiences he added a new one—of the current season—shooting, with a party who included two local club members, two bears. Another member, Conroy, reported shooting a 300-pounder last week.

This Sunday the club will hold another shoot on the Nash Farm, in Penn Valley, at 2 P. M. There will be turkeys, chickens and ducks for the best trapshooting as well as still-mark and flying-board.

This Saturday afternoon the Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs will shoot, flying-board, still mark and clay targets, on the penitentiary grounds at Gratersford. Dressed turkeys, chickens and ducks will be prizes—and also a greased pig, to the man who can catch him.

Community Club Grows

Ten New Applications Made For Women's Organization; Plan Tea

Ten more have signed applications for membership in the Women's Community Club of Narberth. Mrs. E. B. Hoskins, chairman of New Membership, hopes to bring the number to fifteen by November 23 when the Board of Directors meets at 10.30 in the morning at the home of the president, Mrs. E. W. Heymann, to vote. Invitations will go out next week for the tea, which the New Membership Committee is giving for the nearly 50 new members taken in since the club year started in October, on December 8 at the home of Mrs. Heymann.

Mrs. Hoskins, who is holding to her goal of 100 new members, will be glad to hear of anyone in the community interested in joining.

Some fifteen of the new members and many of the old ones are joining the chorus which Mrs. C. F. Kuebler, music chairman, is conducting. All those interested are asked to meet for rehearsal just before the November 30 meeting at 12.45 in the American Legion wing of the community building.

Vs. Pull and Drag

John Flynn Tells D. A. R. Efficiency in Government Must Be Started Locally

John E. Flynn, assistant district attorney of Montgomery County, in his address at the Reciprocity Luncheon of the N. S. D. A. R. of Narberth, on Monday, pointed out that government efficiency which inspires confidence starts in such small units as Lower Merion Township and the Borough of Narberth. Mr. Flynn made a plea for practical patriotism, declaring the public persecution of crime is one of the highest forms of patriotism. He also said that in order to keep the type of government in which we have confidence, its functions must not be attacked by the use of pull or drag. In other words, it is up to the public to see that the criminal gets his just punishment. He stated that in Montgomery County in 1936 there were 836 defendants in the criminal courts of which 94.8 per cent were convicted.

It's the Handsomest, Most Spacious Station on the Main Line —Except. . . .

LET'S HAVE A PARADE!

Great is jubilation in Narberth over the palatial new station. At last—so goes comment of the town—the Pennsylvania Railroad has begun to right an ancient wrong. The wrong was perpetrated in decaying decades long gone, when the north-side station was erected, and permitted to stand, and stand. Its rear view—still standing—gives the Haverford avenue business section a big black eye. And its front view, not vastly prettier, completes a picture that is more like a caricature, and that—it now becomes evident—has contributed largely to the borough's feeling of inferiority. Too many passersby—by train and car—have blinked and said "Hungry Hollow"—after seeing the station.

But that's a passing phase, thanks to the P. R. R. With the station master moved to his handsome new south-side office building, there's little to halt demolition of the abandoned ancient eye-sore.

As for the new structure across the way. . . . That such magnificence should grace the borough's platform. . . . Commuters have been eyeing it ever since OUR TOWN'S announcement last week, with awed admiration. It seems too good to be true. It is not that the borough feels the station is too good for it. . . . After all, Narberth is aware that more people buy tickets at Narberth Station than any other in Philadelphia's suburbs. . . . But that such a unique building should come to the borough, all unsought. . . .

And so OUR TOWN contemplates a celebration. The removal by Station Master A. E. Burgstesser and staff, of their effects Tuesday was too quiet, too informal to do justice to the dignity of so grand an occasion. There should have been a band, a parade, with flags waving, locomotives tooting and dogs woofing. The removal was rather too unobtrusive, as if railroad officials felt the transfer of the ticket office to its new quarter (or shall we say eighth?) was a descent from bad to worse—as OUR TOWN so crudely intimated last week.

Repentant, OUR TOWN now advocates that the new station be accepted for what it is—the handsomest, most spacious waiting room and ticket office on the Main Line (with the exception

Mrs. Mueller In

Role of Co-ordinator, Invites Heads of Narberth Clubs to Confer on Harmonizing Work

Marking the close of her seven-year leadership of the Mulieres of the Narberth Fire Company, Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller is inviting the presidents of all clubs in the borough to a Presidents' Civic Tea at her home, 208 Essex, 2.30, Wednesday, December 1.

OUR TOWN's editor is among the invited guests. Purpose of the meeting, in addition to its social nature, will be to discuss the work of the various organizations, give the head of each a clearer idea of the work of the others, and consider plans for co-ordinating activities and enlarging their territorial scope.

Services Today At Lutheran Church for Mrs. M. E. McLinn

Mrs. Mary E. McLinn, widow of the late Dr. Milton E. McLinn, who was pastor of the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church in Narberth, died Wednesday at Johns Hopkins, in Baltimore. Services will be held at 2 P. M. today at the Narberth church, scene of many years' devoted service. The Rev. Cletus Senft will officiate.

There are two daughters—Miss Ruth E. McLinn, Princeton, and Mrs. Robert D. Clare; a son, George (Stoney) McLinn; and Mrs. Spencer V. Smith, of Narberth, is a granddaughter.

Have you made plans to attend the bazaar at the Methodist Church, December 4? Supper tickets are now on sale for a good home-cooked roast ham supper. For reservations, phone Mrs. S. M. Russell, Narberth 2589-W.

"Read for Profit and Pleasure" was the topic Monday of the Rev. Robert Elwood Keighton, pastor of the Baptist Church of the Evangel Summer Travel Club book awards were presented at the P.-T. A. meeting by Clara E. Follette, who is Librarian of the Narberth Library, of whose Board of Trustees Mr. Keighton is president.

FOR THE NEW STATION—A DEDICATION!

of Overbrook, Merion, Wynnewood, Ardmore, Haverford, Bryn Mawr, Rosemont, Villanova, Radnor, St. Davids, Wayne, Strafford, Devon, Berwyn, Daylesford and Paoli).

And that the "Dog House Station" may be officially opened with fitting pomp and circumstance, OUR TOWN now proclaims next April Fool's Day as the occasion for dedicatory exercises. Inside the building's far-flung echoing halls and lofty domes, let there be a speakers' table. At it, let Narberth's civic leaders (preferably no more than six, preferably on the lean side) be seated. Let Pennsy's President M. W. Clement preside. And for the formal anointing of this, the Paoli Local's newest and greatest source of pride, OUR TOWN hereby offers a magnum of vintage champagne; or of vichy water (good for headaches) a half-pint.

The Firemen are Coming—So Look Out—and Hand Out

Because relief is needed all winter long and many a needy borough family is not on the State's charity, Narberth's Emergency Relief Fund carries on its good work. Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller announces that the borough firemen will start their clanging door-to-door travels the end of next week, soliciting aid from the fortunate kind-hearted. Rather than clothing, the need this year is for cash—to buy coal, food, medicine, shoe repairs.

That's My Story

For the first time in a long while, Davis' sell out.

The new Our Town's first issue, November 5, sold like hot cakes at Davis' store, so that an additional number of copies had to be placed on the news stand. They sold out, too.

Last week, despite the fact three hundred-some extra copies were mailed prospective subscribers, the public again showed its increased interest by buying all Davis' had on hand.

Subscriptions are rolling in very nicely, thank you. Our Town's new editor-publisher wants you to know your subscription is appreciated—and that of your neighbor and of your fellow-club-member, too. Here's to a bigger Our Town, with increased publicity coverage for your club and church, and your favorite stores and shops.

Around Our Town

At the Legion banquet last Thursday (reported last Friday in Our Town), there were plenty of World War service men, but only three veterans of previous wars: One was Edwin P. Dold, who received the Legion Award. He is a veteran of the Spanish-American War, and so is William G. Hower, Bryn Mawr publisher and Montgomery County Recorder of Deeds. Another very much honored guest was Henry Dall, who enlisted in the Navy in '63, when 14 years old, and served under Admiral Farragut in the Civil War. He lives with his wife and his daughter, Miss Jeannette Dall, on Iona avenue.

Pipe-smoking George B. Suplee was seen at the Women's Community Club Men's Night Tuesday, smoking his first cigarette of the year.

That 4ths basket in front of the old Merion Title Building doesn't support a lamp illuminating the Haverford-Narberth avenues intersection any more. Let's see how long before the new light post goes boom.

Yowling, unheeding combined pleadings of the Narberth Fire Company and the Lower Merion police, "Tucky Lucky," the Barry S. Mellors' black-and-white kitten, 116 Chestnut, Narberth stayed until last Friday in a tree where it had fled, four days before, dog-at-heels. Collaborating in a rescue were Peter C. Barr, Cynwyd, of the Animal Owners' Protection Association, who called up the Lower Merion Shade Tree Commission; and Ernest Trimbur, of West Manayunk, that body's employee, who expertly shinned up the slippery tree and after an hour, brought the hungry feline home alive.

If You Don't Work, But Want To—Register Now

Let the local post office have your registration card in connection with the nation-wide unemployment census—provided you are able to work and want work, and are totally or partially unemployed or are working on a public work relief program such as WPA.

Do not bother filling and returning the Unemployment Report Cards if you are retired, do not want work, are permanently disabled or chronically sick, are too young to be permitted to work, are an administrative employee of WPA or similar emergency project, are totally employed, or working part time and do not want extra work.

—So says Narberth's chairman, Squire Joseph Magarity. He urges all who want employment to bring their cards promptly to the post office.

Main Lines

Pennsylvania's antlerless deer (doe) season is November 25, 26 and 27 for holders of special permits. Farmers may hunt on their own land for deer on those days without permit, the State Game Commission informs.

Paul H. Griffith, 739 S. Highland avenue, Merion, senior at Friends Central, won the school's award for the best art and prose work in the school magazine "Blue and Gray."

Dr. Edward J. Dent, of King's College, Cambridge, will discuss "The Social Aspects of Music" at Roberts Hall, Haverford College, Monday, at 8.15 P. M.

Represented at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace Conference this week-end at St. Lawrence University, Canton, N. Y., are five local colleges: Bryn Mawr, Rosemont, Villanova, Villa Maria and Immaculata.

Mrs. Henrietta Garrett Ferguson, who petitioned the Philadelphia Court to disinter the body of Mrs. Henrietta Garrett, $20,000,000 snuff heiress, in hope of finding a will buried with her, will pay about $1000, cost of opening the grave. No will was found.

Soviet Ambassador Alexander Troyanovsky was the overnight guest this week of Dr. Susan M. Kingsbury, Bryn Mawr College professor-emeritus of social economy.

Second annual open Canary and Wild Bird Show of the Philadelphia Cage Bird Fanciers' Association will be held at the Hotel Philadelphia this Saturday and Sunday.

George T. Knutzen, Old-Time Resident, Is Dead

George T. Knutzen, who with his family lived in Narberth twelve years until '28, died suddenly Wednesday night at his home, 327 S. Cedar lane, Highland Park. Friends may call at Haterman's parlors, 912 State road, Highland Park, this evening; funeral will be tomorrow at 1.30. When he lived on Forest avenue, Mr. Knutzen, who was an architect, was active in the Presbyterian Church, and had a host of friends, who mourn the passing of a truly good and estimable man. He would have been 79 next December 22.

Mrs. Knutzen outlives him, and there are seven children: Lillian, Dorothy and Solveig, and George, Philip, Bernard and Thomas.

Rotarians Sing

After a long period of no music, the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club burst into song at its luncheon in Green Hill Farms, Tuesday. "Wild Flower" A. F. W. Vick was chairman, and Jack Balbirnie was leader and soloist. Among visitors who joined the Rotarians in melody were George Carson, Walter J. Scott, George Painter, Jr., LeRoy M. Lewis and Tom Elwood. Principal W. J. Drennen accompanied.

Demo Luncheon Tuesday

The Democratic Women's Luncheon Club of Lower Merion and Narberth will meet at the General Wayne, Montgomery and Haverford avenues, 12.30 next Tuesday.

The guest speaker will be H. Eugene Heine, Esq., whose topic will be Social Security. A cordial invitation is extended to all women interested in Democratic affairs and this vital subject in particular.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. McCarthy Hanger, Cynwyd 909.

Mr. and Mrs. Jules Xavier Junker, of Haverford, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Aimee Begeon Junker, to Mr. Alexander Shand Loos, Brownsville, Texas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Loos, Shirley road, Narberth. Mr. Loos is with the Pan-American Aeroplane Company.

The Junkers will entertain at tea November 21, in honor of their daughter. The marriage will take place late in December.

The Time Has Come

the Walrus said, "to talk of many things: Of shoes and ships and sealing wax, of cabbages and kings." —Lewis Carroll.

It is no longer news that city business firms are frothing about the sign and grating nuisance tax, but it is worthy of comment that Philadelphia's only Democratic councilman plans to introduce a bill for its repeal. It is most unusual, in fact, for any Democrat to favor less taxes of any kind.

Some of them, like our own Haverford Governor, would like to reduce taxes, of course, but how can it be done with an increasing number of New Deal mouths to feed. At present the number of salaried State employees is 27,115 whereas it was 18,654 in 1935. And that doesn't include some 29,856 on the payroll doing unskilled work and such.

But returning to the sign tax, Mayor Wilson also would repeal it, substituting therefor a tax on the 200,000 persons who earn an average of $3,000 a year each in Philadelphia, but who live in other counties including, of course, Montgomery and Delaware.

Perhaps the mayor's dislike of the suburbanites is mutual. If we recall correctly, Dr. Albert C. Barnes, Merion art collector (whose dislikes are neither few nor frugal), at the last Narberth Firemen's banquet referred to "cheap politicians—like the present mayor of Philadelphia."

"Cheap" and "inexpensive," however, should not be confused. This week Dr. Barnes delivered another broadside at the Quaker City when he said it was "stung" for paying $110,000 for Cezanne's "Bathers."

The Book Shelf

Not much change in the New York Herald-Tribune's score this week of best sellers:

Fiction

"The Citadel," Cronin.
"Northwest Passage," Roberts.
"And So-Victoria," Wilkins.
"To Have and Have Not," Hemingway.

"The Rains Came," Bromfield.
"Enchanter's Nightshade," Bridge.
"So Great a Man," Pilgrim.
"The Nutmeg Tree," Sharp.
"Gone With the Wind," Mitchell.
"Katrina," Salminen.

Non-Fiction

"How to Win Friends and Influence People," Carnegie.
"The Arts," Van Loon.
"Life With Mother," Day.
"An American Doctor's Odyssey," Heiser.

"Andrew Jackson," James.
"Four Hundred Million Customers," Crow.

"The Good Society," Lippmann.
"Orchids on Your Budget," Hillis.
"The Return to Religion," Link.
"New Frontiers of the Mind," Rhine.

This being a free country, there's probably no call for a plaintive note because Carnegie's patent medicine continues to top the non-fiction list, but is one out of order when one wishes it were very much otherwise?

Coming out this week from Farrar & Reinhardt is Henry Beston's "American Memory," with many "first accounts," a book of 538 pages which, from all backgrounds, ought to be well worth its $3.50 cost to those who wish to be abreast of the national scene in all its multitudinous aspects.

Our Town can go places in this book realm if it gets some index of reader-interest and so a few books bought through this office, at publisher's price or less, will be helpful in developing the larger plan in mind.

Mrs. Tily Succumbs

Final rites were held Monday afternoon for Mrs. Herbert J. Tily, wife of the president of Strawbridge and Clothier's, who died Saturday at her home, 121 Montgomery avenue, Cynwyd, after an illness of several months.

Services were held at St. John's Church, Cynwyd, followed by interment at Westminster Cemetery.

Mrs. Tily, who was 69, was active in philanthropic work in the community. A member of the Bala-Cynwyd Branch of the Needlework Guild of America, she was also active in the Women's Auxiliary of St. John's Church where her husband is organist and choirmaster.

She was a member of the Matinee Musical Club and the Philadelphia Art Alliance.

Her husband and four children, Harry C. Tily, 2d, L. Herbert Tily, Mrs. Charles M. Betts, 3rd, and Miss Ethel H. Tily, were at her bedside.

MICHAEL J. MULLIGAN

Services were held Monday at St. Agatha's for Michael J. Mulligan, who died last week at 211 Wayne avenue, at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. McGarry. He had been suffering from cancer of the throat.

Three-Star Shows Show Three Stars at Narberth

Loretta Young, Warner Baxter and Virginia Bruce give a pleasant performance in "Wife, Doctor and Nurse" this week-end, and there's a Mickey Mouse comedy.

Monday and Tuesday, Narberth brings back another three-star show, "Manhattan Melodrama," with Clark Gable, Myrna Loy and William Powell.

Claude Rains, celebrated character actor, stars in "They Won't Forget," Wednesday, Award Night.

And to conclude a good week's entertainment, Deanna Durbin, Adolphe Menjou and Leopold Stokowski will share honors with the Philadelphia Orchestra in "100 Men and a Girl."

Anna Neagle as "Nell Gwyn" Suburban Feature Sun., Mon.

"Nell Gwynn," the romance of the little orange-vendor who captured the heart of a King, comes to the Suburban Theatre, Ardmore, Sunday and Monday, with lovely Anna Neagle and Sir Cedric Hardwicke co-starred.

New sources of material, never before published and shedding new light on this strangest of all royal romances, were utilized in the detailing of the story, which was directed and produced by Herbert Wilcox, for release through United Artists.

The dialogue of the production is credited to King Charles II, Samuel Pepys, Nell Gwynn and Miles Malleston. The music and lyrics accompanying this story of Sweet Nell of Old Drury are by Edward German and Philip Braham.

A BIG VALUE

THE FIRESIDE

Mrs. and Richard L. Miller, Shirley road, had as their luncheon guests Sunday, Miss Constance Cummings, star of "Mme. Bovary," at the Chestnut Street Theatre. Miss Cummings is a second cousin of Mr. Miller and is married to Ben Levy, producer of the play. Her mother, Mrs. Kate Cummings, accompanied her.

Miss Barbara Shand, St. Davids, entertained the Fortnightly Club at luncheon last Friday. Mrs. William Baily Goodall read a paper on the Mississippi River.

Dr. and Mrs. John Van Ness, Grayling avenue, have started by automobile for their annual visit to Florida, 664 Third Avenue, South, St.
Petersburg.

Mrs. Walter I. Dohard, Haverford avenue, has returned from visiting her son, Robert, in New York City.

The Clark W. Sunderlands, Glenwood road, have for their guest Mrs.
Sunderland's sister, Mrs. Sara Miller, Marysville, Pa.

Nancy Jane Mackenzie, daughter of the James B. Mackenzies, Narbrook Park, is a house party guest this weekend at Hill School.

Mrs. Ada Sweet, of New York, is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, the H. I. McConnells, of Merion avenue. Donald McConnell will return from Penn State College for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. McAdoo, Jr., Anthwyn road, have as their guest, Mrs. McAdoo's sister, Mrs.
Erle Luce, of Minneapolis.

Dorothy Ogden, daughter of the Benjamin Ogdens, of Chestnut avenue, who is studying at William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va. will have as her holiday guest her grandmother, Mrs. Jane Horn, of Chancellor Hall, West Philadelphia.

The Ed J. Pollocks, Avon road, will have as their guests over the holidays, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pollock, and their son, Jack, of Westfield, N. J.

Mrs. Spencer V. Smith, Hampden avenue, entertained her club at luncheon and bridge on Wednesday.

The Herbert Prices and their daughter, Doris, will leave early Thanksgiving Day for Baltimore where they will be the week-end guests of Mrs. George H. Elmer, Mrs. Price's mother.

The Frank A. Bedfords, of Braeburn lane, Penn Valley, gave a buffet supper Saturday evening in honor of their guest, Mrs. Bedford's cousin, Mrs. Boyd Pantlind, of Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Clarence A. Speakman and her daughter, Mary, of Hampden avenue, spent the week-end in New York visiting friends. Last Tuesday evening the Speakmans entertained at dinner a bride and bridegroom, Mr.
and Mrs. Harry Strauss, of Overbrook.

Ruth Lee Cook, daughter of Mrs.
R. M. Cook, 115 Dudley, was given a surprise party and shower Tuesday evening by Mrs. Edward Connor, of West Philadelphia, and a luncheon bridge and shower last Friday, at Cameo Cottage, by Mrs. Arthur L.
Cooke, of Lantwyn lane. Miss Cook's marriage to Mr. David F. P. Connor, of Meadeville, Pa., will take place in late December.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Jefferies, Jr., Arlington road, Penn Valley, will have as their week-end guest Judge Arthur McNulty, of New York, who with them will attend the Navy game, at Princeton, on Saturday.

Mrs. C. K. Stahl, of Essex avenue, and Mrs. Matilda DeBack, who is visiting in Narberth, spent last Thursday in Washington.

The George W. Tidde, of Clarendon road, will return about December 1 from their trip abroad.

The engagement of Miss Florence
D. Haist to Mr. Persifer Frazer Smith, 4th, of Paoli, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Charles F. Haist, of Penn Valley.

There will be a tea and shower this Saturday, given by Miss Haist in honor of Miss Dorothy Lehmann, whose engagement to Mr. Stanley Goedell has been announced.

The Haists will entertain at the Army-Navy game the 27th, with dinner to follow.

gave a tea Wednesday afternoon in honor of Miss Dorothy E. Gimber, of Lantwyn lane, Narberth, whose marriage to Mr. Robert E. Durnin, of Mill Valley, California, will take place
November 29.

Friends will be glad to learn Edward S. Haws is recovering at his home, 109 Dudley, from his illness.
Mr. Haws is the former borough postmaster and councilman.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton B. Macoley, 325 Meeting House lane, celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary last Saturday night. There were 46 guests present at the joyous occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Jefferis, of Dudley avenue, will leave on Sunday

Opens Salon

AARON KAPLAN
Whose modern beauty salon, Aevon Coiffeur, at Church road and Lancaster avenue, Ardmore, opened this week.

Business Bits

Aevon Coiffeur Opens

Most beautiful and modern beauty salon in the United States is Aevon Coiffeur, Church road and Lancaster avenue, Ardmore, which opened recently. The new South American "prima vira" wood, finished with a coat of filler, a coat of sanding sealer, two coats of DuPont's water-proof lacquer, and then hand-rubbed, gives a distinctive setting. Windows are unique. The lobby has custom-built furniture. Dernier cri is the cosmetic and perfume bar. On the left of the huge 100-foot-deep floor space are two facial booths and six permanent wave and shampoo baths.
Each is equipped with a full-width (six-foot) mirror. Center of the floor are six dresserettes and six manicure tables; and in the rear, the osteopathic department. And there's a lounge room for male and female operators.

Mr. Aaron Kaplan, formerly of Strawbridge & Clothier's Antoine Salon, and Mr. John Kaplan are the proprietors, courteous, expert, accommodating.

Roy Kessinger, who had the Sunshine Service Station, is now spending all his energies at his Sunshine Garage on Iona avenue. Notice his ads this week? And speaking of automobiles, Ted Hance, whose ad is in Our Town, is the sort of Plymouth-Chrysler dealer you can depend on.

James Gwoland joined Narberth's well-dressed group this week, at the Narberth Men's Shop. No, the movie stars in the shop's ad last week were just one of those things. You late contributors will make the editor work so late at night he gets bleary-eyed reading proof.

The business people of this section have a new idea in Christmas advertising that will probably greet your eyes next week. And as for those Christmas decorations and lights in the business section, they'll be there, as usual—or better.

William H. Haws, the genial hardware man, subscribed to Our Town this week and says he intends to advertise. So did another business man whose ad will appear shortly. All of which spells good times for all of us, let's hope.

for a trip through Florida. They will Narberth, is chairman.

A boy . . .
Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Greenhalgh, of Overbrook, are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son, John Smith Greenhalgh, born November 8.
Mrs. Greenhalgh is the former Miss Helen Anne Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stanley Smith, of Overbrook. Mr. Greenhalgh is the son of Mrs. John P. Greenhalgh, of Wayne avenue, Narberth.

Dr. and Mrs. C. Graham Reid, of Winding Way and Standish road, Merion Park, are being congratulated on the birth of a son on November 16.
Mrs. Reid is the former Miss Florence Mead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
G. Alvin Mead, of Germantown, formerly of Merion.

The Spectator

Time marches on, 13 long years of it, and now comes a new crop of troubadors to carry St. Margaret's Minstrels to still Higher Estate, not at all perturbed because there are no songs like the old songs nor any increase in the seven original jokes which have been the world's sole store of comedy since life began.

Those who came last Monday and Tuesday evenings (without, alas, benefit of advertising) to see this score of neophytes hold forth discerned many a glimpse of the tilting talent which will henceforth be the borough's bounty and, love them all, they even charged a whole dollar for their premier, so mindful were they of old traditions and their desire to emulate all the precedents of their prototypes, which is something to commend in a day when youth is apt to be rather cocksure of its own superior way and will.

Each of them played his part well, very well, indeed, and if a symbol is to be chosen let it be, say, John Nec-ely, who gave what might be called an extraordinary performance and so say all the actors and the beholders.

The piece was called "The Jolly Jongleurs" (probably after St. Francis) and it was directed by Walter Case, who can be very happy in his achievement, and so can all these excellent young men who profited by what the old masters taught them and who were thus able to make a substantial contribution to charity and to the enjoyment of friends who were alert to witness their well spirited entertainment. John McKeown, Ted Finn, Cliff Parks, John Neely, the Rudolph twins, Pat Curran, Mike McGarry, Benton Heald, Alex Daly, Ed Stroger, Pete Claffey, John Gallagher, Al Filiponi, Dick Rudolph, Hugh Leahy and Matt Callahan.

And if Dick Cabrey had not been in the hospital he also would have been in the cast.

The honor guests included Mrs. Harper D. Sheppard, State Regent, who gave an interesting talk of the Executive Board meeting in Washington, D. C., and of her visits to D. A. R. schools. Mrs. Ira Springer, vice-regent, who spoke on the Student Loan sponsored by the D. A. R.; Mrs. Horace Jones, State treasurer, whose topic was Americanism; Mrs. Joseph G. Forney, State regent-elect, who will take office in April, 1938; Mrs. Charles M. Stuard, of Ardmore, State chairman of Americanism and director of the State; Mrs. Joseph J. Klumpp, regent of Jephtha Abbott Chapter, and Mrs. William Groff, Merion.

A musical program was given by Mrs. Cletus Senft, accompanied by Mrs. Mildred Bailey. Mrs. C. Arley Farmer was in charge of the luncheon, substituting for the chairman, Mrs. Verna R. Woodcock, who has just returned from hospital to her home on Montgomery avenue, convalescing from a recent operation.

Other guests at the luncheon were Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller, president of the Mulieres; Mrs. Edmund Allen Whiting, president of the Narberth Parent-Teacher Association, and Mrs. Ralph C. Heath, past president of the Women's Community Club.

W. C. T. U. Meets

The Narberth W. C. T. U. met Monday with Mrs. C. H. Woolmington. The devotional period was in charge of Mrs. Elmer L. Stapp and was most inspiring. Mrs. Woolmington assisted with two vocal selections. Following the business meeting, a concise and very interesting report of the State Convention held in Greensburg in October was given by Mrs. William T. Llewellyn, of Haboro. Mrs. Llewellyn and Mrs. R. C. Kennedy, president, were delegates sent by Montgomery County.

"When a coach has had a successful season he dwells on what a great coach he is," said Councilman Harman, head football coach at the University of Pennsylvania, "but when he's had a poor one he builds up character, and, boy, how I'm going to build tonight." His genial sincerity in admitting that things are not so good this year, partly due to heavy injuries, won him the complete good will of his audience.

Bill Anderson, for 13 years basketball coach at Lower Merion High School, was introduced as a coach with a winning record that compares with the best in the country. He declared that boys from Narberth had always done much toward keeping Lower Merion's high record in sports. He asked mothers to help the team by keeping their children physically fit, to nurse maid them at home as the coaches do at school.

In introducing Tommy Loughran, retired undefeated light heavyweight champion, Ed Pollock called him one of the cleverest men that ever stepped into a ring and said he could even now beat Joe Louis. Tommy had an Irish smile that won the hearts of the women while he gave an exciting tale of a pugilistic trip to South America. He told how he knocked out a South American fighter in a fight down there, with an unprecedented right hook to the jaw—but the referee called it a foul and said if it happened again, no pay-off. And at the end of a twelve-round bout the decision was given to the native. He saw a wrestling match there between a sixty-eight year old ex-champ and a young Texan, who got his opponent in a scissors grip and then slapped his head with a heavy slipper till it bled. The champ didn't mind till his wife told him the Texan had used a slipper, not his hand; then he was furious.

Rusty Callow, head coach of rowing at the University of Pennsylvania, has more pupils now teaching men than any other coach in the country, according to Mr. Pollock. The apple-checked Bala-Cynwyd guest looked over the crowd and said, "My subject was to have been pull your weight in the boat, but not many of you here could do it. You're the best-fed crowd of women's clubs' husbands I've ever seen." He said the greatest crews average 6 foot 4.

Ed Pollock introduced Jimmy Dykes as a Main Line boy who had risen to fame as a baseball player, and who is now manager of the Chicago White Sox, ranking third this year. "Everybody wants to know if I will trade Zeke Bonura," said Jimmy. "Well, I will if I can. I like him to a certain extent, then I could kill him. He's too deliberate. While he's giving his Hitler salute to show he caught the ball, a man can slide to base." Dykes said Chicago was divided into the north side for the Cubs and the south side for the White Sox, and great would be the battle if they ever mixed. He said his team took seven games to beat the Cubs this year just so the Cubs wouldn't be afraid to come back next year.

Al Horowitz, of the Evening Ledger, president of the Philadelphia Sporting Writers' Association, was a guest and was heard to say if his organization could put on as peppy a program he would be happy.

Mrs. E. W. Heymann, club president, welcomed the guests. Refreshments were served by the Hospitality Committee, Mrs. R. C. Heath, chairman.

Plans for the Christmas party, December 13, of the Mulieres will be made at a committee meeting in Elm Hall 2.30 P. M. Monday. Mrs. Albert H. Nulty, chairman, asks all members of her committee to attend. Their names were published last week.

Miss Peggy MacGuffin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. MacGuffin, of Brook way, Merion, gave an informal supper party Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Manchester, formerly of Narberth, were guests of the MacGuffins this week.

John E. Krout was home last Friday from Princeton for the Haverford-Penn Charter game, and left Saturday afternoon for Cambridge to attend the Princeton-Yale grid classic. Purring-Polak

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Polak, of Glenside, announce the marriage of their daughter, Julia, to William H. Purring, 3 Wynnewood Court, Narberth, 11 A. M., last Saturday in St. Luke's Church, Glenside. After a reception for the immediate families, at the Sunken Gardens, City Line, the couple left for a honeymoon in Atlantic City. They will live in Oak Lane.

"Love's But a Dance"

Tonight at Cynwyd

At 8.30 tonight the curtain on the stage of the Bala-Cynwyd Woman's Club, Levering Mill road and Bala avenue, will open on the Junior Club's fall production, "Love's But a Dance." Characters you've read about, persons you've known (in type at least) will unfold an amazing story as an Egyptian tomb gives up its great secret to two happy American lovers.

In addition to those mentioned last week, the cast includes Elizabeth Russell, Virginia Hildreth and Gordon Fernow, who will be remembered from previous Junior Club plays, and Martha Ferguson, Thomas O'Neill and Richard Bell make their initial stage performance. Helen Weatherall and George Werner, of Narberth, are playing leading roles.

HOW A CASH REWARD TO FARMERS MADE MILK Safe FOR BABIES

More than 23 years ago we made a revolutionary discovery. We found that dependably clean milk, under Laboratory Control, could be assured by paying the farmer a bonus for his extra sanitary care.

That simple discovery secured the farmer's enthusiastic interest in producing milk free from contamination. Thus was created a milk supply of the highest standard of Purity—Safe For Babies.

This special milk we named ABBOTTS DELUXE "A"—the first milk of "A" Grade in Pennsylvania.

Today Abbotts de luxe "A" Milk is the finest quality in its long history. Is your baby enjoying its benefits?

Pamahaska's Pets...Mr. Lehman ill
...Picture Library...Red Cross
...Bulletin Boards

In celebration of American Educational Week, the pupils were entertained by Pamahasika's Pets, last Friday. The dancing cockatoos, cockatoo's gym class, hoop and barrel stunts done by dogs and a monkey, little Billy the brainy bird, and Commodore, the pony with a human brain, were some of the outstanding features. The parents, students and teachers enjoyed the program.

Mr. Lehman, a teacher in the Narberth School, was taken to the Bryn Mawr Hospital, threatened with pneumonia. Although he was very sick, he is recovering, but will probably not be back until the Thanksgiving holidays are over.

Mrs. Harold Kline is taking Mr. Lehman's place. She was a former teacher in Lower Merion.

The circulation of the Picture Library is beginning to function. Two children are selected from each room, to select two pictures for their home room. The pictures are to be hung, and will remain in the room for six weeks. The object is to give each room a chance to enjoy the many lovely pictures our school has.

If you go to the school library you will find a number of new books on display. Each year the school tries to purchase some new books about the time we celebrate Book Week. They are "Once To Every Pilot," "China Quest," "Swords and Statues," "Jim Of the Press," "New World Builders," "A Dog At His Heels," "Man and the Motor Car," "In the Days of the Guild," "We," "Talking Drums," "Carpenter's Geography," "Captains Courageous," "Peter and Nancy In Asia," "Silver Chief To the Rescue," "Sword of Steel," "Pecos Bill," "On the Air," "Barefoot Days," "American Boy's Handbook of Camplore and Woodcraft."

About 25 books were rebound, and they also are on display.

The Library's bulletin boards have been fixed with book plates done by the seventh grade of 1936.

On Monday, the Red Cross had a trailer in back of the school so that the students could see the work being done by the Main Line Branch of the Red Cross.

This trailer was made in the form of a house. Some of the things displayed were clothing, dolls, paralytic things, home hygiene and care of the sick, braille books and playing cards, and there were many others.

The Red Cross has done many things to help in the care of disabled veterans, first aid, life saving, home hygiene and care of the sick, making of braille books, floods, fires, clothing of people, eyeglasses, milk, toys, and vacations for underprivileged children.

ELEANOR HAYWOOD.

The Thanksgiving vacation will begin at the close of the session November 24 and school will reopen the 29th. This will give us an extra two-day vacation.

When you think of Thanksgiving you also think of Indians, so Peggy and Betty Hollar, who are in charge of the museum case at the school, are getting a collection of Indian material. It consists mostly of beads, pottery, baskets, dolls, and clothing. Peggy and Betty have many promises for other things, which will make a large display.

On November 12, Narberth won another football game. This time against Valley Forge Military Academy in a 105-pound game. At the end of the first half the score was 26-0, in favor of Narberth. At the end of the game it was 46-0. Justin Cassavechia made three touchdowns, Buddy Cantagalli made three, and Jim Pruitt made one. Narberth's next games are with Friends' Central.

On November 9 Miss Dale and the 4 and 5 grades gave a Horace Mann play. About 150 parents enjoyed it and afterwards attended a tea. On November 12 the school was open for the parents to visit. About 75 parents came during the day.

BETTY HOLLAR,

Main Line Players
in Opener Saturday

The Main Line Players will open their second season with a production of "Petticoat Fever" this Saturday evening, at the Woman's Club of Bala-Cynwyd, with Miss Betty Fuller directing.

The cast includes R. William Lietget, Jr., Miss Boudinot Oberge, John M. Kennedy, 3rd, Miss Ioury Maloff, Charles E. Goodman, Jr., Nickolas Gordon, Howard Rue, Mrs. William Tuttle, Mrs. John M. Kennedy, 3rd.

Following "Petticoat Fever," the Main Line Players will present "Shining Hour" in February, and "Dangerous Corner" in May.

Sidelines

—By John Mulligan

The biggest week-end in Main Line football circles has arrived again. . . . Take your pick. . . . Will it be Lower Merion or Radnor; Villanova or Temple?

Since sports columnists are supposed to be experts (oh, how the public goes for it!) we stumble along with tradition. . . . Before some 10,000 pigskin-crazed citizens at Villanova Stadium, Radnor will turn back the Maroon. . . . And the Wildcats will live up to the dopesters' selections by picking the feathers out of Temple's Owl.

We haven't seen Villanova or Temple perform this season so the choice is merely on past records. . . . But we did watch L. M. and Radnor go through their paces. . . . Radnor, as usual, got away to a slow start but showed plenty of stuff in handing Abington its initial licking of the season. . . . The Raiders will be "right" for their most important tilt with the Ardmore boys, who have taken their share of the bumps.

Narberth's gridders turned in a throbbing win over Overbrook last Sunday before a large crowd at the playground. . . . Jumbo Dimidio, Patsy Mariana and Howdy Powell scored the local touchdown, while Otts Conroy place-kicked a neat field goal. . . . Incidentally, Jumbo's younger brother, Joe, is an end on the Lower Merion team.

Bill Leahy and Alfred (Fifi) Filipone, two other Narberth youngsters, are starring at quarterback and tackle respectively for West Catholic High. . . . Gene Davis, Jr., earned a regular berth as back at Mercersburg Academy and Lou Young, Jr., captained Dartmouth's frosh eleven.

Did you know there is a sketch of a regulation football on the sidewalk concrete in front of Referee Bill Crowell's home, on Montgomery pike? . . . Even the correct measurements of the 1937 pigskin are printed beside it.

Independent grid fans are looking forward to a great battle when Narberth plays Gladwyne here Sunday afternoon. . . . 'Tis said the boys from the hilly country have been priming all season for the Narberth game.

Narberth is not represented in the Main Line Basketball League this year. . . . Jay Neill managed the team which was runner-up last season but there was no town following. . . . Narberth never took seriously independent court warfare so figure what happened when Narberth's team was made up of boys who were not residents.

In Harvey Harman's back yard there's material for a winning Penn team: Narberth School's 105-pound grid heroes outclassed Valley Forge, Wednesday of last week, 45-0.

Lon Jourdet, formerly of Narberth, called out his Penn basketball squad Monday for the season's first workout. One of its members is Ray Stanley, of Narberth, former Lower Merion High star.

Don't Put Strange Dogs. . . . Three boys were bit by an unlicensed dog while watching the football game Sunday at the Narberth playground. Dr. R. C. Hoffman treated the boys and Dr. R. M. Staley took the dog to the township pound for observation.

Time Out

losing to the weaker clubs and then throwing a splurge to knock off the big fellows. Upper Darby, a sensation this season, lost to the Wayne team a few weeks ago.

Lower Merion defeated Upper Darby last week, 7 to 6. That, however, is ancient history and hardly worth mentioning because the eyes of the football minded are on the game at Villanova Stadium tomorrow.

It's a grand rivalry—a friendly rivalry, and one that deserves the interest of the people of the Main Line and surrounding communities. Long may its traditions live.

TOMMY MACKLIN.

Wynnewood Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Bruce French, Grenox road, will have as their Thanksgiving guests Mrs. Paul Hartung, and the Misses Marylyn and Beverly Hartung, Canton, Ohio.

Miss Jane French will return home for Thanksgiving from Pine Manor Junior College, at Wellesley. She will be introduced at a tea dance to be given by her parents, November 26, at the Barclay.

Miss Elizabeth Lodge Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer D. Wright, Elm Lodge, attended the Yale-Princeton game, at New Haven, last Saturday, and the dance that followed.

Mr. Ledyard H. Heckscher, Bala-Cynwyd, will entertain at the Barclay December 10 before the Assembly, in honor of his cousin, Miss Margaret Hart, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hart, of Wynnewood.

Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn Clark Smith, Jr., of Old Gulph road, will be the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Munro Leas, in New York, and with them will attend the Princeton-Yale game Saturday.

School Fund Dividend
Increased to 40 P. C.

$25,054 Being Paid on Grade Children's Accounts in Closed Bank

More than 7100 former school children who were depositors in the Merion Title and Trust Company are receiving dividends amounting to 40 per cent of their deposits as of November 15, Luther Harr, Secretary of Banking, announced this week.

The dividend as originally announced was to be 30 per cent, but the sale of a mortgage has enabled the deputy receiver to increase the percentage by 10, making a total cash payment of $25,054. This brings the total percentage that school children depositors have received to 75 per cent.

These children attended eight grade schools in Lower Merion Township—Ardmore, Ashland, Bala, Bryn Mawr, Cynwyd, Merion, Merion Square and Wynnewood Road; the Lower Merion Junior and Senior High Schools; two grade schools in the borough of Narberth, and the St. Denis Parochial School, Oakmont.
